

Nathan Christian Lab 4 essay question

An alternative to line by line text handling is character by character text handling. Perhaps instead of using `fscanf` we can use `fgetc`.

After using `fgetc` we can pass that character value to a character array or to a pointer for long term storage for compilation.